Tariff 'EE' (2022.02)

Effective from 1st February 2022
(Also showing previous year's details in brackets)

1. Scope of tariff

This tariff applies to performances of copyright music (including any words associated therewith) which is controlled by The Performing Right Society Limited ('PRS for Music'*) or any of the societies in other countries with which PRS for Music is affiliated, at:

- schools which are wholly or partially government-funded. 'Schools' includes all primary and secondary schools – or any combination thereof – including special schools
- independent ('private' and 'public') schools
- schools, when the school provides extended hours care for pupils
- nurseries, pre-schools or playgroups forming part of any school.

This tariff does not apply to:

- performances specified in section 34 of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 as amended (see page 3);
- 'grand right works' ('dramatico-musical works' and ballets), for which permission must be sought direct from the appropriate rights owner (see page 3).

2. Exclusions

The following are excluded from the tariff and licensed separately by PRS for Music:

- performances at sixth form colleges, universities and other institutions of further or higher education, and their student unions
- gyms or leisure centres, in dedicated areas or buildings, open to individuals not associated with the schools and/or operated commercially
- featured music at events, or in facilities, run by a party other than the school or where any profit or benefit does not go entirely to the school. This includes, but is not limited to, concerts, festivals, theatrical performances, dance and aerobic classes
- any other commercial uses that could not reasonably be considered part of schools activities and would be licensable under other PRS for Music tariffs
- performances at any other premises
- performances at nurseries, pre-schools and playgroups on separate sites.

3. General conditions

This tariff is subject to PRS for Music's General Conditions Applicable to Tariffs and Licences, available on request from PRS for Music.

4. Royalty rates

Where the music user has applied for and obtained PRS for Music's licence before musical performances commence, the standard royalty rate will be charged and payable for the first year of the licence.

Where the music user has not applied for and obtained PRS for Music's licence before musical performances commence, the higher (standard plus 50%) royalty rate will be charged and payable for the first year of the licence.

After the first year of the licence, in either case, the standard royalty rate will be charged and payable.

The following rates of charge apply to all royalties falling due from 1st February 2022.

	Higher Royalty	Standard royalty
4.1 General performances The annual royalty for each school, for a licence under this tariff covering school performances of musical repertoire controlled by PRS for Music (unless excluded above) such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • use during school activities • unlimited featured music at school events for 201 to 250 pupils on the school roll at the start of the academic year, is:	£147.54 (£141.87)	£98.36 (£94.58)
4.2 for each unit of 50 pupils thereafter	£20.93 (£20.12)	£13.95 (£13.41)
4.3 For up to 200 pupils (or part thereof).....	£132.17 (£127.08)	£88.11 (£84.72)

5. Value Added Tax

Every Licensee under this tariff will pay to PRS for Music in addition to the royalty due, a sum in respect of Value Added Tax calculated at the relevant rate on the royalty payable.

6. Inflation adjustment

Every year on 1st February the monetary sums in this tariff will be adjusted for inflation. The adjustment formula will apply to the standard rates, using the mean (to the nearest whole percentage point) of the percentages by which the Retail Prices Index and Average Weekly Earnings index (unadjusted) change in the year to the previous September.

September is the latest month prior to the anniversary date for which figures are published for both indices.

After application of the inflation adjustment the royalty rates are rounded to the nearest penny.

All royalties will be charged at the royalty rate in force at the beginning of the licence-year.

7. Information to be supplied by Licensees

Every Licensee under this tariff will, if requested from time to time, supply to PRS for Music or its authorised agent:

- a statement of the total number of pupils on the school roll at the start of the academic year;
- such other particulars as may reasonably be required.

2022.02 edition

1. What is PRS for Music?

The Performing Right Society Limited is the UK association of composers, songwriters and music publishers. It administers the performing right in their music, in relation to the provisions of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act, 1988 (as amended).

2. What is a PRS for Music licence and who needs one?

PRS for Music's general practice is to grant its licence to the proprietors of, or other bodies responsible for, premises where performances of music take place. The licence authorises the public performance of any of the millions of the works in its international repertoire. The licence is necessary for the public performance of copyright music controlled by PRS for Music, regardless of the nature of the entertainment (excepting 5. and 6. below) or the kind of premises at which the performance takes place. There are particular arrangements for educational establishments, as follows.

3. Does a school, college, etc need a PRS for Music licence?

Yes, to authorise the public performance of copyright music controlled by PRS for Music.

Government-funded establishments

Since April 1999 CEFM (the Centre for Education and Finance Management Limited) – see 11. below - has acted as PRS for Music's authorised licensing agent to administer the collection of licence royalties for the majority of UK school premises (sometimes via a Local Education Authority).

Independent ('private' & 'public') schools

CEFM also acts as PRS for Music's agent in licensing these schools.

Colleges of Further Education

Colleges of Further Education are licensable under a tariff ('FE') also administered for PRS for Music by CEFM.

Universities

PRS for Music itself issues licences direct (under Tariff 'UCH') to universities and similar institutions of higher education.

4. What's included in Tariff EE?

All performances of music as part of school-run activities, including events run for a profit where the profits go entirely to the school (e.g. PTA events).

These performances might include:

1. Concerts, music recitals, etc (not including 'dramatico-musical works' such as Disney or West End musicals – see Note 6)
2. Extra-curricular clubs and classes
3. Breakfast and after-school clubs (for pupils at the school)
4. Holiday clubs (for pupils at the school)
5. Background music, including background music in eating areas and staff rooms
6. Parent Teacher Association events
7. School discos and dances
8. Social clubs for pupils and teachers
9. Use of premises by non-profit organisations (such as local clubs or community groups), where the attendance does not exceed 40 people
10. Use in school-owned vehicles used for school activities
11. School fetes
12. School sports events
13. Music on hold on school telephone systems.

In addition, remember that PRS for Music does not charge for:

14. Use of premises as rehearsal space
15. Music performed as part of the curriculum
16. Use of premises for a family party.

5. Are there musical performances which PRS for Music may not license?

Yes. The first subsection of section 34 of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 provides:

- (1) The performance of a literary, dramatic or musical work before an audience consisting of teachers and pupils at an educational establishment and other persons directly connected with the activities of the establishment -
- (a) by a teacher or pupil in the course of the activities of the establishment, or
 - (b) at the establishment by any person for the purposes of instruction,
- is not a public performance for the purposes of infringement of copyright.*

[Subsection (3) goes on to say that A person is not for this purpose directly connected with the activities of the educational establishment simply because he is the parent of a pupil at the establishment.]

Accordingly, PRS for Music does not require to issue a licence for music use as part of the curriculum.

6. Is there any music which PRS for Music does not control and license?

Yes. For further details about the borderline of rights administered by PRS for Music in relation to theatrical performances please ask for our leaflet Music in Theatres, but in the context of productions which may occur in schools, PRS for Music does not control, in summary:

(i) Dramatico-musical works

Staged or full concert performances of operas, operettas, musical plays, revues and pantomimes in so far as they consist of words and music written specially for them; and what are termed 'dramatic excerpts' from dramatico-musical works. However, where musical items do not exceed 25 minutes, do not constitute a 'potted version' or a complete act, the non-dramatic (concert) performance of copyright music from operas, musical plays and the like is controlled by PRS for Music.

(ii) Ballets

Performances of ballet, whether the music has been specially composed for the ballet or not, if "accompanied by a visual representation of ballet" (meaning, in practice, that there are ballet dancers or even puppets).

(b) Music specially written for a dramatic work (eg incidental music to a play): when performed in, or in conjunction with that dramatic work.

(c) Cantata-musicals if dramatised as musicals and PRS for Music has handed back the performing right to the copyright owner (see 7. below).

(d) Music in the Public Domain when performed in its original form. Generally speaking, the period of copyright protection is the life of the last-surviving creator and 70 years thereafter. However, we normally controls copyright adaptations (eg arrangements, transcriptions, translations, settings and editions) of works drawn from the Public Domain.

Permission must be sought direct from the copyright owner (often a music publisher) before copyright works outside PRS for Music's control can lawfully be performed. It is essential that you obtain such permission before beginning rehearsals, especially in the case of popular musical plays ('musicals').

7. Cantata-musicals

(a) When the cantata-musical is sung in concert as a cantata (without any staged elements), PRS for Music normally controls and licenses.

(b) However, when a cantata-musical is dramatised as a musical (staged with elements such as acting, lighting, costume, etc), it may well be that a special arrangement has been made whereby we have handed back the performing right to the copyright owner (normally the music publisher), in which case a licence will be required from that copyright owner. If no such arrangement has been made, then PRS for Music controls and licenses. Please read carefully any notice on this point printed in the vocal score, libretto or other edition of the work. If in doubt, contact the publisher before any rehearsals take place.

8. Pantomimes

Generally, PRS for Music regards the use in pantomimes of pre-existing musical works in its repertoire as being covered under its 'blanket' licence with individual educational establishments, local authority, representative body, or agent such as the CEFM.

Please note that PRS for Music does not control the use of excerpts from dramatico-musical works (musical plays, etc.) if excerpts are presented in a manner which, by dramatic action, costume, scenery or other visual effects, portrays the writers' original conception of the work from which the excerpt is taken. Such 'dramatic excerpts' require authorisation direct from the copyright owner (e.g. a music publisher or other company).

9. Are programme returns required?

It is a condition of our blanket licence that, if requested, details (including titles, composers' and publishers' names, etc) of all musical works performed should be returned by the licence holder to PRS for Music or its authorised agent.

10. Adaptations of works

PRS for Music cannot authorise any alteration of lyrics, the adaptation of a musical work, or the photocopying of sheet music. Prior authorisation must be obtained from the copyright owner (usually the music publisher).
